A short reflection on today's Gospel Mark 7:31-37

He makes the deaf hear and the dumb speak

Today's Gospel witnesses Jesus, once again moved to pity by human suffering, restore the hearing and speech of a deaf mute. He takes the man away from the crowd to a quiet place and after performing the miraculous healing, enjoins the man to tell nobody about it. We may wonder why Jesus should ask the man to keep quiet. On reflection, it seems clear that he does this to deflect obsessive attention away from himself and on to the reason he is here on earth, which is to do the will of his Heavenly Father: to proclaim his Father's message of love to all mankind which means that we place love at the centre of everything we do. This love, this love of God and love of others, allows all the gifts of that love to flow freely outwards from our hearts and souls to those around us: gifts of compassion, forgiveness, understanding and kindness. Jesus shies away from the cult of personality. He will not allow anyone to make it all about him, Jesus; he insists we focus on the message at the heart of his ministry. He knows that those he heals are changed forever: the miracle of his healing is imprinted on their souls forever and it is this change that is important to Jesus, not the physical healing. He often reminds his followers that the source of all healing is God, his heavenly Father.

Jesus, may we open ourselves to the healing change for good offered to us every day by our encounters with you in the Eucharist. May we shy away from the modern obsession with the cult of personality and celebrity, and make all we do and say be about your ministry of love and true healing.

Jesus, the people said in today's Gospel that all you did was good. Let us look deeply into our hearts and discover there whether or not all that we do is good. Are we careless with other people's lives? Is what we do all about us or about God? Help us, Jesus, in our discerning.

SEASON OF CREATION. “A Home for All?: Restoring Our Common Home”

The Season of Creation or Creation Time, is marked throughout the Christian world from 1st September to 4th October (Feast of Saint Francis of Assisi), celebrating the joy of creation as well as encouraging awareness-raising initiatives to protect the natural environment.

The Diocese of Derry is encouraging parishes, schools and families to reflect on what they can do to protect the environment around us all. Throughout the season, parishes are encouraged to promote environmental, liturgical or prayer projects: Nature walks, planting seeds, collecting rubbish or recycling are examples.

For ideas, initiatives, prayers, liturgies and news articles on the theme please see the diocesan social media channels and derrydiocese.org/season-of-creation.

“Rivers do not drink their own water;
trees do not eat their own fruit;
the Sun does not shine on itself and flowers do not spread their fragrance for themselves.
Living for others is a rule of nature.
We are all born to help each other.
No matter how difficult it is....
Life is good when you are happy;
but much better when others are happy because of you.”
