

A short reflection on today's Gospel John 1:6-8, 19-28

In today's Gospel John the Baptist, when questioned by the priests and Levites, predictably points away from himself and towards Jesus:

'I am not the Christ.... I am not the Prophet. I am a voice that cries in the wilderness, 'Make a straight way for the Lord.'

One of the most satisfying characteristics of this unorthodox man who fulfils his God-given mission so powerfully and so passionately, is his humble acceptance of who he is and what exactly he has been tasked to do. He firmly refuses to make it about himself despite the fact that his preaching attracts people to him in their thousands. He removes the attention from himself always and onto Christ.

'I baptise with water; but there stands among you – unknown to you- the one who is coming after me; and I am not fit to undo his sandal-strap;'

Advent is a season which invites us to look more deeply with new-washed eyes and to see more clearly.

Jesus, may we understand and accept, as John did, that nothing is really about us: it is about you. And may we be aware that, as in John's time, you stand among us, and more often than not, as then, you stand among us unknown to us. May we look more deeply and may we see you more clearly as we move through this blessed season of Advent.

National Year of Prayer for Vocations to the Diocesan Priesthood – Our prayer this weekend for the seminarians of the diocese of Derry and for those discerning their vocation is taken from the words of St Paul in our second reading: "May the God of peace make you perfect and holy; and may you all be kept safe and blameless, spirit, soul and body.... Update from Universal Synod – In October 2021, Pope Francis launched a Synod on the theme of synodality. The Irish Catholic Bishops sent a report to the Synod Office in Rome in August 2022. This became part of a Continental Stage in Prague (February 2023), and a working document was published based on the themes worldwide (June 2023). This document was the official working document for the first session of a universal assembly known as the Synod of Bishops which took place from 4th – 29th October. A second session is scheduled for October 2024, where further decisions will be taken following a year long process of reflection, further research, and prayer. A full report from the assembly is available online at www.synod.ie/bishopsreport.
